MARKET FOR WHEAT A TRIFLE STRONGER

Revival of the Export Trade a Helping Factor; Corn and Oats Down.

By Associated Press. Chicago, July 1 .- A revival of the export trade brought new strength today into the market for wheat. Bullish estimates regarding the crop in the northprices were 10% higher than last night. The end of the day, however, left corn down i to iff net and oats off iff to 1 i cents. Hog products finished all the way from 10 cents loss to 175 gain. Sales of wheat to foreign countries were made both here and at Toledo. The news of these transactions had an immediate effect, causing shorts to cover in lively fashion. Much interest, too, was displayed regarding productions by a leading authority that the three most important spring crop states—North and South Dakota and Minnesota—would not yield more than 140,000,000 bushels as against 191,000,000 indicated in the government July report and 177,000,000 bushels, the final official total a year ago. Another source of assistance to the bulls lay in explicit denials that the banks here had been calling in any loans on wheat. September ranged from $7$ to $8$, closing easy but $10$ up, at $7$.68$ Corn values gave way under free selwere made both here and at Toledo. The Cash grades were easy. No. 2 yellow finished at 652-657.

Free offerings of the new crop made the oats market heavy. September high and low points were 472-46 with last sales 461, a decline of 1 under last night's close.

A rally in provisions was attributed to shorts covering because meat and lard shipments from Chicago for the week were far short of a year ago. When the pit closed pork was 10 cents lower to 17½ gain. Lard and ribs hung virtually at last night's levels. RANGE OF THE LEADING FUTURES.

Considering the magnitude of the totals now included in the weekly statement of the New York clearing house banks and changes noted in the statement of Saturday as compared with the previous week were small and rather unimportant. Loans of the banks and trust companies combined remained aimost stationary, a small decrease of $512,000 having been reported. Specie and legal tenders expanded $6.665,000 and net deposits rose $12,902,000. An expansion of nearly one million dollars in national bank notes circulation was rather an unusual feature, the clearing house banks and clearing house trust companies now carrying in their individual vaults a total cash reserve of over $435,500,000 which represents an excess of $11,712,800 over legal requirements. This does not include $65,250,000 of trust company reserve which is carried with clearing house members.

RECORD CROPS

Increased Acreage Certain to Overcome the Unfavorable Drought Conditions.

STEEL TRADE SHOWS SIGNS OF RECOVERY

Building Operations Increasing and the Copper Industry Doing Somewhat Better.

By Leased Wire to The Tribune NEW YORK, July 15 .- The all important question of the country harvests was brought to the attention of the bust manner than heretofore through the July summary of the government on the ondition of the grain crops.

The sensational drop of over 20 points in spring wheat from the June report in spring wheat from the June report and a loss of nearly 5 points in the condition of corn, as compared with last year, were disappointing. The deterioration, especially in spring wheat, showed clearly the havoc made by the intense heat and drought.

Notwithstanding this, the estimated out-turn of corn and wheat is well above the average because of increased acreage and there has been considerable recovery since the report was compiled. The action of the commodity markets throughout the week in quickly reacting from each upward spurt affords ample proof of more satisfactory conditions.

The cotton prospect has really the brightest outlook of the whole crop situation. Cultivation thus far this season has been as nearly professional as possible and at different points during the week rains have fallen over the entire belt and fewer complaints than usual are heard. All this naturally strengthens previous estimates of a record drop. A cotton harvest of 14,000,000 bales would be of the highest importance to the country this year from several points of view.

At the present time new crop options country this year from several points of view.

At the present time new crop options are ruling close to 13 cents. On this basis such a crop would have a market value of $910,000,000 and, counting seed the total would be 1,000,000,000. Taking 12 cents as the prospective value the result would be $840,000,000 without any allowance for seed. Judging the future by the present prospects if seems quite salt would be said, out on without any allowance for seed. Judging the future by the present prospects it seems quite likely that cotton is going to give the country another large crop balance abroad and also great wealth to the south, to make sentiment for the whole country, just as the west did in 1909.

From a trade standooint the greatest impression in the business mind this week was the continued improvement in the steel industry. In a general way this was expressed in an increase in the unfilled orders of the United States Steel corporation of 247,000 tons. The company's rail mills are now running nearer to canacity than any previous time this year; wire mills are working 77 per cent; some other mills 78 per cent and steel ingots are being produced on the basis of 13,000,000 tons a year.

Railroads are not entirely responsible the basis of 13,000,000 tons a year.

Railroads are not entirely responsible for this, as building operations show an increase all over the country.
The conner industry is also doing better, which is reflected in the June reduction in stocks on hand of 8,561,000 nounds.
Mercantile trade has been affected by the extreme heat and a disposition to await further developments as to the he extreme heat and a disposition to walt further developments as to the await further developments as to the crops.

The stock market dwindled down to a narrow basis. The daily average of transactions was only 200,000 shares and near the close they were at the low point of the year. Sentiment was influenced by the daily crop reports but every time the list was sold down it came back quickly and the undertone of firmness was shown in a general advance of about a point over a week ago.

Some special bull movements were made here and there but they failed to enlist public participation. It is universally conceded that nothing can be expected from prominent interests until August at least.

The money question promises to loom into horses.

The money question promises to loom no increased prominence as the season advances. There is a growing belief that the crops will be marketed on a higher basis of interest rates than the current figures of 2% to 2% per cent for call loans and 3% to 3% for over the year funds.

SHORT SELLING IN THE COTTON MARKET

Good Rains in the South Start . Wave of Liquidation and Lower Prices.

By Leased Wire to The Tribune.

NEW YORK, July 15 .- Further good rains in the cotton belt during the week caused such an increase in British sentiment that liquidation and fresh short selling continued the feature of the trading. This depression forced a decline in old crop options of 37 points in July ing. This depression forced a decline in old crop options of 37 points in July from Saturday's closing to 50 points in August. This decline brought those months down to 12.70. The selling in the new crop options were more general and continued up to yesterday morning, when the whole list from September to next March deliveries showed a maximum decline of 24 to 30 points from last Saturday's closing quotations.

A much better trade demand for old July and August railied those months during the middle of the week, and they continued the strong reatures yesterday, while covering for profits by the bear element sent the new crop up yesterday to within about 10 points of last Saturday's closing. Thus, on the week, prices ended last night with a net loss of but 5 to 12 points throughout the list. The firmness the markets have displayed the last two days reflects chiefly the oversold condition of the market. This is true not only here, but also at Liverpool and New Orleans. It looks as though about the last of the scattered weak speculative longs who trailed on after the former bull leaders in the old crop months were forced out in the sharp, decline in those options during the first part of the week and that their cotton was absorbed by leading spot interests who again control about all the stock of contract cotton, of which but 75,000 bales are now at this port.

The crop is now blooming freely up to the central part of the belt from Texas to the Carolinas. While the plants are not large as a general rule, they are green and healthy and growing well as the result of the recent favorable weather.

The condition of the crop on the whole is as good for this time of the year as any of the best seasons in the last ten years.
